

BONOMI

NORTH AMERICA

Bonomi North America was founded in 2003 as a sales division of the Bonomi Group, a leading Italian group in the industrial sector of hydraulics, heating and energy for the production of components which regulate the passage of liquid and gaseous fluids. Over the years, the sales network has grown, reaching a total distribution throughout North America. The supplied products are designed and manufactured in Italy. Today, Bonomi North America offers multiple solutions for both civil and industrial systems: ball and butterfly valves, check valves, electric and pneumatic actuators, automated valves and much more.
