

INOR

INOR was founded in 1939, and with 75 years experience of industrial temperature measurement, our company possesses an incomparable level of expertise. From the beginning being one step ahead has always been our goal. This means continual development of both our company and product. Along with transmitters, INOR also manufactures complimentary products including displays, isolators, and alarm units. For convenience, INOR has a stocking location in Peabody MA.

Inor Website